What is crowdfunding?

Crowdfunding involves making use of various online platforms (for example Thundafund or Click 'n Donate) to ask for money for various tasks, including donations, capital to start up a business venture, sponsoring a hike up Mount Kilimanjaro, etc.

A question that crowdfunding investors will ask – especially in the equity space – is exactly how much of a stake they're actually buying of your business. Some investors may feel they deserve more than a thank you note for investing in a start-up business once it becomes successful.
